R.A.F. Defeat All Stars In Exhibition Game

Win 4-2 After Hard Game;
Locals Gave Surprisingly
Good Showing.

A good crowd was on hand at the sports field on Monday afternoon to witness the exhibition football game between Medicine Hat R.A.F. and the Pass All Stars.

A. F. Short started the ball rolling with a hefty kick into the visitors' end of the field. Week-end rains had made the field heavy and soon players had difficulty trying to control the ball. Some clever footwork was shown by the visitors but a sturdy defence and clever goalkeeping on the part of Dixon, the R.A.F. goalie who was playing in the All Stars net, kept the visitors from scoring. After six minutes of play the locals got their attack into high gear and from a short distance out Jimmy Walker sent a bullet drive which goalie Culvert failed to hold and Louie Moore sailed in to tap the ball home.

The visitors pressed to get the equalizer but Jimmy Jenkins, of Michel, was in old time form, and blocked the ball time and again, aided by sterling work on the part of his team mates. Dixon seemed to thrive on hardwork and saved what appeared to be a number of sure goals. Thirty-five minutes had passed before Chalmers got his boot to the ball and it was in the net before Dixon could move a muscle.

R.A.F. went ahead ten minutes after half time when Chalmers again scored from close-in. Ronnie Jackson put the teams on even terms five minutes later when he scored a beauty with a high shot that had Culvert beaten all the way. The game was fast drawing to a close and the R.A.F. stepped in front again. Wick made a win doubly sure when he sent the R.A.F.'s fourth goal past Dixon with a shot from close-in.

R.A.F.—Culvert, Duffy, Gwyne, Bloer, Corewyn, Baker, Hall, Rose, Chalmers, Bullford, Wick. All Stars — Dixon, Jenkins, Joyce, Pryde, Jackson, Knight, J. Moore, L. Moore, Walker, Radley, Makin.

Referee—Pete Smith.

"BILL" NAYLOR GRADUATES AS AN OBSERVER

Wm. Naylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Naylor, was a member of a class of Royal Canadian Air Force Observers to graduate at Mountain View, Ont., No. 6 Bombing and Gunnery school on Saturday. Good luck to Billy, who a few years ago was an energetic delivery boy for the Coleman Journal.

The Journal is the recognized publicity medium not only for general advertising, but for the promotion of all worthwhile community enterprises which comprise the life and general activities of the place. It employs people whose wages are spent in Coleman who take part in its varied activities. It gives much free space which no other publicity medium can or does give. A live community weekly newspaper such as The Journal is the mirror of local activities. It is the most effective advertising medium, and it has a steadily increasing paid-up subscription list.

Local Citizens Should Appreciate Their Roads And Streets

Coleman citizens should consider themselves most fortunate in having hardsurfaced roads and streets throughout town.

During the past week-end The Journal reporter has motored from the east end of the Pass to Fernie and the local roads are so far ahead of neighboring towns that there is no comparison. In the residential sections of Bellevue, Hillcrest and Blairmore the roads are in terrible condition. The main highway between Michel and Natal is just an apology of a road in its present condition although a government grader was busy on some sections on Monday. The roads in the residential area of Fernie are also becoming full of pot holes.

True the local hardsurfaced roads have a number of pot holes in them but they are very few when compared to those of neighboring towns.

Paul Baron Writes The Journal

The Journal is in receipt of a letter this week from Mr. Paul Baron, of Calgary, formerly of Coleman. Included were a number of clippings pertaining to Donna Grescoe, young Winnipeg violinist, whom one music adjudicator has described as a genius.

The talented young artist is the pupil of Mr. George Bornoff, son-in-law of Mr. Baron. She won wide acclaim at the Manitoba festival and received the highest marks ever given by Adjudicator Arthur Benjamin at a festival. Following her performance the Winnipeg Tribune sponsored a concert to help finance the purchase of a good violin for Donna. She has the honor of having the Tribune's concert billed as the Donna Grescoe concert. Mary Bornoff, wife of the teacher and well known in Coleman, is the accompanist.

"Blankets for Britons" are supplied by the Canadian Red Cross by the thousands for bombed out civilians and shelter sleepers.

BRITISH WIVES BECOME BRITISH RAILWAY-WOMEN

Many railwaymen have now been replaced on British railways by women, who are thus taking over a vital wartime task. Much of the work is heavy, and needs to be undertaken at all hours, and in all conditions of weather. Picture Shows: The wife of an aircraft factory-worker, giving the starting signal to a train driver when seeing trains off at a big London railway terminus.

Elks' Amateur Show Highly Successful; Visiting Air Force Artists Applauded by Audience

Margaret McLellan Won First Prize in Vocal Class; Isobel Ewing and George Roper Team Win in Instrumental Class.

Coleman Elks were supported by a capacity audience in the Community hall on Monday evening in their first amateur night sponsored this year. There were approximately twenty entries to which were added several specialty numbers by Coleman's Ukrainian and Polish dance teams and by artists of the Lethbridge Bombing & Gunnery school. FO Shaeffer was M.C. and by his wisecracks and humorous antics kept the program swinging along with never a dull moment.

Artists competing included Miss Hazey Kryzwy in both piano and vocal solos; E. Lant, accordion solo; R. D'Andrea, vocal solo; Gordon Roper and Isobel Ewing, violin and piano ensemble; A. Kostelnik, accordion solo; Miss V. D'Andrea, piano solo; Margaret McLellan, vocal solo; Elaine Korman, Isobel Ewing, Harry Parkinson and George Roper, orchestra; S. Klish, accordion solo; Mrs. E. Foster, vocal solo; Elaine Korman and Isobel Ewing, piano duo; F. Dzurek, accordion solo; E. Belik and E. Goulding, accordion duo, Mr. H. Drew, Blairmore, vocal solo; Walter Klish, accordion solo.

Each artist was very good and in order that prizes might be distributed fairly, vocalists and instrumentalists were judged separately.

FO Shaeffer held his hand above each contestant's head and a stop watch record the length of applause given each contestant by the audience. Results were—vocalists, Margaret McLellan, Ralph D'Andrea and Hazey Kryzwy. Instrumentalists—Gordon Roper and Isobel Ewing, Walter Klish and third prize was awarded the youthful orchestra of Elaine Korman, Isobel Ewing, George Roper and Harry Parkinson.

Margaret McLellan was a popular winner as she sang in a sweet voice "The White Cliffs of Dover". She is only nine years and gives promise of having a beautiful voice. Ralph D'Andrea was another young vocalist who captured the hearts of the audience with a popular song which he sang well. Miss Kryzwy and Mrs. E. Foster ended in a tie and a coin decided the contest in Miss Kryzwy's favor.

Gordon Roper and Isobel Ewing showed much talent as they combined in a piano and violin ensemble, Isobel playing the piano. Both these youngsters had their pieces well memorized and played with confidence to win first place honors. Walter Klish showed much class with his accordion solo and beat out stiff opposition from the other accordion players.

Third place honors went to the youthful orchestra of Elaine Korman, Isobel Ewing, Harry Parkinson and George Roper. Elaine was pianist, Harry Parkinson played the drums and George Roper and Isobel Ewing played the violin. The youngsters played exceptionally well, George Roper being heard to inject a little swing into his piece which helped put the number over.

The Ukrainian and Polish national dance teams came in for much applause, there being four dancers in the Ukrainian dance and eight in the Polish dance.

Artists accompanying FO Shaeffer were pianists AC Prior and LAC McKenzie, who gave a clever piano duo, LAC Faye, soloist, was encored and proved a capable entertainer. In addition to his songs he put on an act with the help of M.C. Shaeffer, which proved he had some skill as a "magician". The M.C. asked members of the audience for various articles, LAC Faye on most occasions being able to guess the name of the article correctly, even though he was blindfolded.

The program closed with M.C. Shaeffer giving several tunes on his accordion, LAC Faye vocalizing.

WEDDINGS

BINDA - KUSNIR

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Holy Ghost church on Tuesday morning, May 19, when Anne, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Kusnir, of Fernie, became the bride of John Binda, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Binda.

Miss Dolly Ross, of Fernie, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Edward Ryman, of Coleman, attended the groom. Other attendants were Helen Michalski, Christina Bubniak, Anne Maxnie, John Gydoes, Paul Kusnik, and Walter Simla.

Following the ceremony the reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, for immediate relatives and friends. The groom left on Friday for military training and the bride will remain with his parents for an indefinite period.

JUNIOR CHOIR CONDUCTED CHURCH SERVICE

In the absence of Rev. J. E. Kirk, who was attending a convention of the United church at Edmonton, the Junior choir under the direction of Mr. James Cousins, presided at the service of St. Paul's United church on Sunday. The choir sang a number of hymns and were aided in the service by Sgt. Harry Thomas, R.C.A.F., who sang a vocal solo and George Roper, Jr., who played on the violin.

ALLIED TANKERS BRINGING OIL TO BRITAIN

Even in peacetime the lot of an oil-tanker's crew is not an enviable one; in wartime the perils are increased tenfold. Under the protection of the Royal Navy and R.A.F. Coastal Command, filled tankers continue to reach Britain safely despite concerted U-boat, E-boat and enemy aircraft attacks. ## 60 Parcels Sent to Soldiers by Comfort Fund

Ask That All Overseas
Addresses Be Given to A.
Easton at Legion Club;
Many Articles Included
in Parcels.

The executive of the Canadian Legion's Women's Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. H. Turner last Thursday evening to discuss the articles which should make up the contents of the soldiers' parcels.

It was decided that socks, razor blades, shaving soap, toilet soap, gum and laces would be purchased and included in each parcel. Since that time 60 parcels have been prepared and fifty of them shipped to their overseas destinations.

It is the desire of the committee to once again get all overseas addresses up-to-date and relatives having sons or husbands overseas are asked to hand the addresses to Steward Alex. Easton of the Legion Club. Prompt attention to this matter ensures delivery of parcels while failure may penalize some soldier from getting a parcel simply because his address is unknown to the committee.

The Soldiers' Comfort Fund received a good boost at the weekend from the sale of tags for the Medicine Hat R.A.F. and Pass All Stars football game. The Fund committee express their thanks to the R.A.F. and local players as well as all citizens who supported the game by buying a tag. The next parcels for the soldiers will be sent a short time before Christmas.

Provincial Government Deepening Nez Pearce Creek

Sam Sagoff has been awarded a contract from the provincial government to deepen by three feet that portion of Nez Pearce creek which flows south of the C.P.R. track in east Coleman to the Old Man River.

Sam had his caterpillar busy on the job Wednesday morning and will spread surplus soil over the road alongside the creek which in itself will be a long needed improvement.

It is hoped that deepening the creek three feet will help eliminate flood conditions in East Coleman such as existed three weeks ago.

Caledonian Society sponsored a successful whist drive in the I.O.O.F. hall on Friday evening. Prize winners were: ladies, Mrs. W. H. Garner, Mrs. L. Caroe and Mrs. H. Turner; gents, Mrs. D. Neavy, Mrs. D. Gillespie and Mrs. G. D'Amico.

GOODS CONFISCATED

Customs officers at Dundalk, Eire, just over the border from Northern Ireland, seized tableful of butter, sauce, sugar, canned fruit, razor blades and silk stockings from 500 rail excursionists who were preparing to return to Belfast. The confiscated products filled the station platform.

Age No Handicap

Jewellers Of Queen Victoria's Time
Now Doing War Work

Craftsmen who made beautifully worked diamond brooches, bracelets and other examples of fine jewelry for the court of Queen Victoria are among those who have gone back from retirement to their benches in London workshops to add their skill to Britain's war effort. They are now fashioning delicate parts for airplanes, tanks, ships, torpedoes and bombs, as well as surgical and precision instruments. Some of them are as old as 80; in one workshop alone there are as many as 30 expert craftsmen between the ages of 60 and 80. At least one principal has returned from retirement with the others. He is R. C. Antrobus, who organized the jewelry trade for war work in the last war. It was Mr. Antrobus who, in 1890, offered £40,000 for the famous Napoleon necklace which the Emperor Napoleon I presented to the Empress Marie Louise on the birth of their son, the King of Rome, in 1811. When he retired some years ago, Mr. Antrobus was head of the firm which five generations of his family have directed, but he, too, is now back at the bench with his men.

The General Retreated

Robert E. Lee Did Not Realize How Popular He Was

General Robert E. Lee could never realize the profound respect and affection in which he was held by his countrymen. One day, several months after the close of the war between the States, he visited a store near his home in Powhatan County, Virginia, and chatted with the proprietor about crops and other topics of local interest. News of the General's presence was quickly noised about the village, and a large crowd soon congregated in the store for a glimpse of the beloved figure. Suddenly turning about and noting the crowd, General Lee exclaimed apologetically: "Oh, Mr. Sanders, I never realized I was keeping you away from so many customers. Please pardon me!" And then Lee beat a hasty retreat.

Daughter—Well, he's keeping me pretty much in the dark.

Suspicious—Have you had any stage experience?

Ambitious—Well, I had my leg in a cast once.

"By Jove, old boy, I couldn't believe it when I heard you were in hospital. Why last night I saw you dancing with a pretty blonde."

"Yes. So did my wife."

"The man who gives in when he is wrong," said the speaker, "is wise, but the man who gives in when he is—"

"Married," said a weak voice from the audience.

"Your doctor's out here with a flat tire."

"Diagnose the case as flatulence of the perimeter and charge him accordingly," ordered the garage man.

"That's the way he does."

"The 'road-hog' was lying semi-conscious in a hospital bed."

Doctor—How is he this morning?

Nurse—Oh, he keeps putting out his right arm.

Doctor—Ah! He's turning the corner.

"These doughnuts," said the young married man, "are not like my mother used to make."

"I know," replied the recent bride sweetly. "Your mother called up just the other day and asked for my recipe."

Preserve Tires

New Regulations Make It An Offense
To Destroy Any Scrap Rubber

Scope of the regulation making it an offense to destroy tires has been broadened to include all scrap rubber. It was announced by the department of munitions and supply.

The order now provides no person shall burn, cut, or destroy "any tire or tube of a passenger car, truck, motorcycle, bicycle, airplane, or other vehicle, any rubber boots, hose scrap from repairing or from making repair materials, buffing scrap from preparing for retreading, retread scrap, fan belts, radiator hose," or other used or discarded rubber products or rubber scrap.

An authorized tire dealer must make the best possible use of tires and tubes which can be made fit for further use on the road, must re-sell those which are in good condition, must repair and re-sell those which can be made safe for operation, but is allowed to sell to another authorized dealer for repair and re-sale a tire which he does not want to repair himself.

All tires or tubes which cannot be sold, or repaired for sale, to a vehicle owner must be disposed of to a salvage collector such as a local branch of the local salvage committee or sold to a scrap dealer.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MAY 31

FRIDAY: THE DAY OF SUFFERING (1)
(Gethsemane and Trials)

Golden text: Not my will, but thine, be done. Luke 22:42.
Lesson: Mark 14:32-34, 44-46; 15:1-5.

Devotional reading: Isaiah 50:49.

Explanations and Comments

The Agony in Gethsemane, Mark 14:32-34. From the upper room where Jesus and his disciples had partaken of the Last Supper, they went to the Mount of Olives. On reaching an enclosed piece of ground in a garden, Jesus called Gethsemane, a word which means Oil Press (it contained olive trees and an oil press). Jesus bade eight of the little group sit down while he went farther to pray. In the solemn moments of life it is to one's nearest and dearest that one turns, and Jesus took with him Peter, James and John, the privileged disciples.

Jesus began to be greatly amazed and sore troubled. "Amazed" is a strong word here. Think of it as "a maze," some one suggests. You are in a place where you cannot get out. You wander round and round. Jesus began to be amazed; he was filled with bewilderment and sorely troubled. And to the three disciples he said: "My soul is exceedingly sorrowful even unto death (compare our statement. I am tired to death, which means I am exceedingly tired); abide ye here and watch."

Privilege means responsibility. What could they do for Jesus by watching? His trouble was beyond their depth. But they could watch and warn him of the approach of his enemies so that he would not be taken unawares. They could keep fellowship with him in prayer. They could sustain him in his agony by their mere sympathetic presence.

And straightway in the morning the chief priests with the elders and scribes, and the whole council, held a consultation, and bound Jesus, and carried him away, and delivered him up to Pilate. And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering saith unto him, Thou sayest. And the chief priests accused him of many things. And Pilate again asked him, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they accuse thee of. But Jesus no more answered anything; inasmuch that Pilate marvelled.

"What then, shall I do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews?" Pilate asked. His conscience had told him what he should do with Jesus, yet he asked the people!

The people who but five short days earlier had acclaimed Jesus as king, now shouted, "Crucify him." "Why, what evil hath he done?" Pilate asked them in helpless dismay. But they only cried the louder, "Crucify him."

"The industries of our country have a tremendous task to perform," said Dr. A. C. Ivy of Northwestern University at the Congress on Industrial Health, convening in Chicago recently.

"The successful accomplishment of this task depends primarily on the morale and physical fitness of our man power," he added.

Dr. Ivy reported on a few ideas that have been worked out to advantage in various industrial organizations throughout the country. The problem of fatigue, due to the heaviness of certain factory jobs, is one that confronts the medical departments of many industries.

Dr. Ivy states that enforced rest periods every other hour or so will eliminate fatigue and speed up production. This was proven by an actual wartime test when two officers at the front, for a friendly wager, competed in making equal lengths of trench, each with an equal squad of men. One let his men work as they pleased, but as hard as possible. The other divided his men into three sets, each working five minutes and resting 10. The latter easily won.

The Congress was also told that almost anything the management of a factory does, which attracts the interest of the workers or indicates interest in the workers' welfare, improves production. Recreation rooms with supervised games are therefore suggested for large industries employing hundreds of workers. They should not feel that their identity is lost or that they have become mere cogs, but are important factors in the country's war effort and therefore the management is very much concerned with their welfare.

Dr. Ivy urged the personnel managements of industries to experiment continually as experimentation will do much to maintain the morale of the workers.

Sees Record Boom

New York Economists Looking For
Big Business After The War

Paul F. Cadman, of New York, economist for the American Bankers' Association, predicted that if the United States gets through the war without being invaded it will enjoy the biggest business boom in history when the war is won.

He told 500 New Jersey bankers at their annual convention that he measures the United States is taking to produce munitions for war are also preparing it for peacetime production afterwards.

The wartime destruction of property in other parts of the world, he said, is creating customers who will clamor for American materials and finished goods when peace comes.

CHAPTER XXIII

Tamar tried to stop her trembling, but the remembrance of this man's words not more than 15 minutes before, came back to her. "Sister, you're sure in a tough spot! It seemed like a horrible nightmare, or that she was the character in some silly movie, being kidnapped by a gangster.

But the climbing speedometer of the car, the trees flashing by as it sped crazily around curves in the dusty road, and the amazing bestiality of the driver's expression told her that it was no dream.

Tamar's common sense told her that she must not try to escape, lest they both be killed, and prayed that the highway patrol would stop him. Several times she thought they must go over into a ditch, but each time the driver managed to keep on the road.

Ransome Todd had finished signing the last of the letters when his telephone rang. It had been an unusually busy day, and he had not noticed how late it was growing.

His startled ears caught the sound of Phoebe's voice, and he sprang to his feet. "Talk sense, Phoebe!" he shouted. "Say it slowly this time."

"De Fettes youngun, name of Marigold, come for Miss Tamah this afternoon, Miss Ranny." Phoebe's parting came more distinctly than her words. "He's m' needed de doctah, and Miss Tamah called him up and took de youngun and rode Madcap de Fettes. She stayed till Doctah Fo'ter come, an' den she left. De Fettes youngun four' one of Tamah's green gloves, an' follo'ed heh. She say she he'd a shot, den she saw Miss Tamah run down de road. Some man ketch'ed up wif he' and grab and put Tamah in de cah and drive off."

Ran's heart stopped beating, then pounded until it must burst his chest, the pain was so great.

"How long ago, Phoebe?"

"Did you call the police?"

"Yas'm, ah called. Mist Randolph was lak a madman. De patrol am a radion' around."

18 FOR 20c.

"Keep the Fettes child till I get there, Phoebe."

In all of his years of driving, Ransome had observed the traffic speed regulations in Tahlahneka. But today, with a grinding of gears, the car was off like a streak, roaring around the square, and off toward the highway. Pedestrians gathered in little knots exclaiming about the recklessness of the driver.

Ransome thought the drive to Shadwell would never end, and almost careened into the big trees at the turn into the lane.

Marigold Fettes, eyes wide in her dirty face, rose in frightened timidity and sidled down the steps of the verandah.

"Tell me all you can," said Ransome in a harsh voice.

Mr. Todd, I followed her, because she lost her glove, and she wuz good to me," the tears trickled down and Marigold began to sob. "I heard a shot, and hid before I got to the junction. I couldn't see Miss Tamar, and I wuz scared. Purty soon I seen her runnin' down the road. I run down to the junction, Mr. Todd, and then I seen the man carryin' her to the car. Miss Tamar tried to get loose, but she couldn't. He drove away awful fast."

"What color of car?"

"Black. A little car, what you call."

"Coupe?" he helped.

She nodded. "That's all I know, excepting, sir, that Madcap is dead."

"U-huh. It looked like they dragged her and hid her behind that brush at the corner." Marigold's sobs grew louder.

Ransome burst into the house and called the local police officer.

"Don't!" he spoke swiftly. "This is Todd speaking. I'm at Shadwell, have you anything on Miss Randolph's disappearance?"

"The patrol is on the lookout. But the black coupe seems to have disappeared from the face of the earth. We've combed the roads around here."

"Where's Taylor, of the FBI?"

"He's already on the job. Just a moment, here's a call."

Ransome waited impatiently. Out of the turmoil of his chaotic thoughts, one thing remained certain. If the patrol were unable to locate the car that had spirited Tamar away, how could he expect to find her? A sudden wild thought assailed him. Maybe the old mill on Whiffle Creek? It would be the perfect place, providing nobody thought of looking there.

And the driver would have just about time to make it there before the roads were watched.

But before the telephone rang, he had realized that there were dozens of places in the immediate neighborhood that would serve very well as hideouts until later.

It was Tom Sidwell. "Todd! There's hell to pay on the road to the Cricket Hill. You might get a clue of Miss Randolph if you want to go out there. Better take a gun."

Ransome shouted at Phoebe who came running as fast as her short, stout legs would permit. "Phoebe, where does Mr. Randolph keep his gun?"

"He taken de 'volver. O! Masah Knox' almy pistol am in de cabinet. Ah'll fetch it."

Ranny threw himself in his car, circled the turn and roared down the drive. Marigold Fettes, hiding in the back between the two seats, rocked back and forth as they swerved onto the highway. Her face was white beneath the tear-streaked dirty skin. She had done her duty, had reported to Mr. Randolph, and now she wanted to get back to the comfort of the homely things that seemed safe to her.

As they neared the cut-off, Ransome ran off the paving, and for one mad second they careened dizzily.

Marigold's wild scream startling him more than the incident.

Ransome came to a skidding, determined stop. "Get out!" he shouted, glaring into Marigold's face. Dumbly, she obeyed.

Ransome fretted as he sped on. "Fool kid. No telling what I'll run into down here. I'll kill the man who took her away in that car."

He shut out the picture of Tamar, made little fighter that he knew she was, trying to squirm out of her captor's hold. If only she would have sense enough to obey him.

At the junction in the road, he slowed, but not enough to keep from skidding when he stopped at the foot of the hill. He made a wide floundering circle, and barely kept from hitting the express truck which had sunk its wheels into the same ditch where Madcap had met disaster.

He recognized Major Towne who had seemed in deep discussion, but was now staring in surprise at Ranny. Taylor, the FBI man, was firing questions at a man. Two patrolmen stood by.

Taylor greeted Ransome briefly.

Ransome walked directly up to Major Towne. "Where is Miss Randolph?" he asked coldly, boring into the man's little close-set eyes.

"Miss Randolph? I'm sure that I know nothing about her. I've troubles of my own."

Ransome's voice was edged with steel, his words portentous. "If I find out that you've had anything to do with her kidnapping, I'll kill you with my bare hands. It will be a pleasure."

"Why what—" the major backed away from him, blustering and red-faced. "Has she been kidnapped? I don't know anything about her."

Ransome's hand shot out. The major stood his ground. "You cut! Tell me where they've taken her!"

Towne looked helplessly at the police. "Keep this man off me. I don't know what he's talking about."

Todd looked at Taylor inquiringly. "There's the law to fall back upon, Mr. Todd. You'll have to come with us, major. I think there will have to be an investigation concerning your movements of late."

The major's face fell ludicrously. "But wait!" he shouted. "I've been robbed. The gold bars have been taken from the truck and you, fool that you are, want to arrest me!"

Taylor nodded to the police who came forward and took Towne's arms.

Ransome talked to Taylor in a sharp tone. "Tell me what happened."

Taylor said briefly. "When I got here, both the gold and the driver had disappeared. It was evident that the truck was ditched and robbed of the gold and the driver taken captive."

One of the officers was left to guard the place, and the other men got into Taylor's car. Ransome knew not whether to follow them or go out by himself in a maze of bewildering possibilities.

Tamar in some one's clutches! Someone who must be criminally unscrupulous. If she had only stayed at Shadwell. He had told her never to go back on the Cricket Hill road again without an escort. Should he confront Towne with all that he knew, or should he have a conference first privately with Taylor?

The FBI man leaned out of his window. "Coming with us?"

Ranny's face was whiter than death. He stooped down and groveled his hand in the dirt. "Yes," he said.

THE RAILWAY AND THE WAR . . . By Thurstan Topham

War brought a tremendous increase in rail travel, but efficient peacetime maintenance of roadbed and equipment has enabled the Canadian Railways to cope with this abnormal traffic. There are constant and heavy troop movements—between camps, air training centres, and training depots, to and from embarkation ports—and many thousands of civilians are travelling daily on war business. The cooperation of the public is greatly assisting the railways in carrying out this big wartime job.

The transport of troops requires very exacting schedules of train movements. The first Canadian continental war moved to a Canadian port in 17 special National Railways troop trains. These arrived at the shipside at two hour intervals.

There are only three transcontinental railway lines in North America. All three are in Canada. All are operated by the National System.

slowly. "Yes, I'm coming with you." He held out the object he had picked up.

It was a green suede glove, mate to the one Marigold Fettes had brought to Shadwell.

Canadian marksmen failed to qualify in the shoot for the trophy, won by South Africa. The trophy is awarded the country showing the highest marksmanship efficiency in the challenge shields competition.

Trinity College school, Port Hope, Ont., which placed second in the honors list, won the coveted sword. The average number of points scored by the young collegians was 94.65.

Gardening

Still Plenty Of Time

It is not too late to plant an excellent garden. As a matter of fact, experienced gardeners point that far more people err on the early planting side than vice versa. There is little real growth for the majority of flowers and vegetables before soil and air really warm up. With most things better to plant late than too early.

Of course there are some exceptions. There should be no delay in getting such things as peas, spinach, lettuce and radish into the ground.

The safest rule with flowers is to plant first those kinds that would naturally seed themselves in the reader's particular district. Among such "self seeders" are many of the poppies, the calendula, alyssum, pansies and other very hardy types.

Grass is also a plant that makes its best growth in the cool weather, and new lawns or lawn repair work should be started just as soon as the soil is fit to work safely. The way to tell if this moment has arrived is to observe soil texture, if muddy and indurated, it is not yet fit to work. Grass is not dry enough. Soil fit for gardening is moist but not sticky. It will crumble when compressed in the hand, not pack into a tight ball.

Spacing
In planting flower and vegetable seed, spacing is important as even the most robust plants do not cure to spend much time kneeling and thinning. Labor can be saved by not sowing too thickly. Corn, beans, peas and similar plants with big seeds can easily be sown at the distances advocated on the packet. With tiny seeded lettuce, alyssum or poppies, however, it is practically impossible to space by hand but if the seed is first mixed with a little sand and the whole sown carefully, plants will be spaced well.

Even with all this care, however, usually some thinning of plants is essential later on. Quicker and sturdier growth will result where there is plenty of room.

Spring flowering bulbs such as tulips, hyacinths and daffodils should be left in the garden to mature after their period of bloom is over. At this time, of course, they cease to be an ornament and many owners are tempted to pull the disfiguring tops. This interferes with flower development for next year and as we are not going to get full supplies of these bulbs again until after the war, it is best to let them cure naturally. However, one can hide dying foliage with some well started bushy annuals. Transplanted now they will be big enough to hide the spring bulbs when the blooming period is over.

One Way To Help

Use Fresh Fruits And Vegetables To Save Canned Goods

In a recent broadcast, Laura Pepper, chief of consumer section, department of agriculture, appealed to housewives to buy fresh fruits and vegetables when in season instead of canned. This will conserve the supply of canned goods for winter and prevent wastage of the fresh when they are plentiful. Extra work involved in preparing fresh fruit and vegetables can well be counted as a contribution to the total war program.

TO PROTECT SHRUBS FROM CATS AND DOGS

The advent of spring marks a wide extension of the social amenities of cats and dogs, as lovers of gardens and flowers can readily testify. No self-respecting dog can hold up its head unless it has visited every garden in his neighborhood, and as for cats, the garden provides a natural, embowered trysting place. However, their depredations can be prevented. Flowers and shrubs in gardens and porches can be protected against damage by cats and dogs by the simple use of a dilute nicotine spray. The spray is harmless but the smell is very offensive to these animals, even when applied so thinly that persons are unaware of its presence.

Nicotine sulphate can be bought at any seed or drug store and should be used at the rate of one-half teaspoonful to a gallon of water. The spray evaporates and should be renewed after rain. In ordinary weather, spraying every two weeks is sufficient.

It seemed a good opportunity and Block pointed out that he hadn't been paid in three weeks.

Air Cadets Presented With Cadet Flag

Presentation Made by F. O. Miller, of Calgary, on Wednesday Afternoon

Coleman's Air Cadets were presented with the Air Cadet flag at a ceremonial parade at the sports field on Wednesday afternoon at which Flying Officer Miller, of Calgary, attended.

Forty nine cadets took part in the ceremonial parade, led by Commanding Officer Harold Houghton. Flying Officer Miller carried the flag to the centre of the field and presented it to acting sergeant Wm. Milley who stood in front of the Cadets who were now standing at attention. The youths then marched to their orderly room on main street.

In the orderly room are models of Harvard and Hurricane planes, Jim Allan jr. being the model instructor. On the wall hangs a wing of one of the Tiger Moth trainers which are often seen flying over Coleman.

Local collections on the Red Cross campaign totaled $621 dollars this morning according to treasurer J. A. Park. Coleman's quota is $900.

This amount has been collected by several teams, some of the others having been unable to get canvassing in the evening due to pressure of their own private business. However they are expected to start canvassing this week-end.

$6,362,571 of the $9,000,000 has already been subscribed throughout the Dominion, with Alberta in second place having 81% of its objective obtained.

SUGAR RATION

Now 1 1/2 LB.

Since sugar rationing was first introduced, the shipping situation has become more serious. The danger to ships and lives has increased. Consequently it has now become necessary to reduce the sugar ration from 3/4 lb. to 1/2 lb. per week per person. Only persons in areas remote from source of supply are permitted to have more than two weeks' supply on hand at any time.

SUGAR FOR PRESERVING

Special provision is made for additional quantities of sugar for home preserving and canning.

In addition to your ration, you may purchase 1/2 lb. of sugar for every pound of fruit that you preserve or can, and 3/4 lb. of sugar for every pound of fruit made into jam or jelly.

Every person who buys sugar for canning or preserving is required to keep an accurate record of the sugar purchased for this purpose. If any sugar remains after canning and preserving, it shall form part of the regular ration of 1/2 lb. per person per week.

Flying Officer of Summit Squadron, No. 73.

He has been actively engaged in Air Cadet work since its inception here and was responsible in having so many local and Pass youths become interested in this work. He is to be congratulated on his promotion.

Official word has also been received that arrangements have been completed for taking into camp at Macleod on July 5, 20 senior boys and their officers.

Measurements will be taken of all senior boys on Friday in order to equip them with air force blue uniforms.

Thanks is expressed by Air

Cadet officers for the magnificent support received from a number of local organizations and it is hoped this support will continue in the future. Sufficient finance has not yet been raised to meet the total cost of the uniforms and the help of all is required to finance the equipping of all senior boys. Appreciation is also expressed to Principal Hoyle who has co-operated with the local officers in allowing cadets to attend parade and drills in preparation for the annual official inspection which was held on Wednesday.

TEA AND COFFEE ARE RATIONED

Ships and lives must be conserved

To bring tea from Ceylon and India, to bring coffee from South America, ships must cross oceans infested with submarines. Today those ships and their naval escorts are required for more essential services. Every ship, every foot of cargo space, is needed to carry war materials, and to bring essential goods to Canada.

So Canadians must now reduce their consumption of tea and coffee. You must reduce your normal consumption of tea by at least a half. You must reduce your normal consumption of coffee by at least one fourth. These reductions are absolutely necessary.

TEA CONSUMPTION MUST BE CUT AT LEAST IN HALF

COFFEE CONSUMPTION MUST BE CUT AT LEAST ONE FOURTH

THIS IS THE LAW

You must not buy more than 2 weeks' supply of tea or coffee for yourself and household in any one week.

You must not make further purchases of tea or coffee at any time when you have two weeks' supply on hand at the reduced ration. (Exception: those in areas remote from supply.)

Retailers have the right to limit or refuse customers' orders if they suspect the law is not being kept. Retailers must not have on hand more than one month's supply of tea and coffee, whether packaged or bulk.

There are heavy penalties for violations of this law.

R.A.F. FLYING FORTRESSES CARRY WAR INTO STRATOSPHERE

The "Flying Fortress," a four, 1200 h.p.-engined bomber now being mass-produced in four of America's largest factories, has a ceiling of 40,000 feet. At this height (over 7 miles) the aircraft is inaudible, and invisible from the ground. Its long range of 2,450 miles, speed of 305 m.p.h. at 25,000 ft. and load of 4 tons of armour-piercing bombs which whistle earthwards at over 700 m.p.h., make the aircraft a deadly menace to the enemy. The "Flying Fortresses" of which one is here seen in flight—are enabling the R.A.F. to develop a new technique in air attack which may prove decisive.

GROWN IN SUNNY, SOUTHERN ONTARIO

The Future Of Canada

THE AREA comprising the Dominion of Canada occupies the largest part of the North American continent. Stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific, a distance of some three thousand miles, it extends northward about the same distance. It is true that great areas in the northern part of Canada lie far north of the temperate zone, and might be considered by many as of questionable importance or value. It should be said, however, that the potential wealth of much of our northern hinterland has only in comparatively recent years been properly realized and appreciated. As a result of exploration work, rich mineral fields have been located, and mining operations carried on close to the Arctic circle. The aeroplane has been an important factor in annihilating the vast distances, and it has been through this agency that much of the development work has been accomplished.

We Should Take Stock Geographically speaking, Canada is a wide domain, but it is unfortunately only sparsely populated. The density of population is estimated at less than three people per square mile, and the increase is not a matter of congratulation. The census of 1931 gave the population as 10,376,786, while in 1941 it is shown as 11,419,896, an increase which is less than one-third of the two previous decennial periods. A falling off of immigration has been a factor, while emigration to the United States and elsewhere has robbed Canada of many useful citizens. The so-called "Have Not" countries of Europe and Asia have long been casting covetous eyes on Canada, knowing full well our wealth of untapped natural resources, and the room for expansion. It would seem that the time is ripe for the people of Canada to take stock of the situation, and to adopt measures to make better use of the heritage which is ours.

Room For Expansion During the greater part of the last decade, Canada has been suffering in common with most countries from the effects of the depression. The markets for Canadian wheat and other agricultural products have been seriously affected, and unemployment has been a problem. With the impact of war, however, the picture has been considerably changed, and it is generally believed that we shall enter a new era of prosperity. It is not only that the war has given an impetus to business, but it is found that we can fabricate many articles that were heretofore imported. The war has also been the direct cause of the discovery of many minerals that formerly came from abroad, and in other ways we have learned to be more self-supporting. It has been clearly shown that Canada has possibilities of expansion, perhaps greater than any other country. We have in our almost unlimited natural resources everything that is necessary for the building of a great nation. Canada needs men of initiative and driving force and vision to take full advantage of the opportunities which open before us. We need to develop a national consciousness, sure in our confidence of the future of Canada, and to strive in every way to be worthy of our position as the senior Dominion under the British Crown.

Since the closing of Buffalo National Park at Wainwright, Alberta, Elk Island National Park has become the new "home of the buffalo."

In addition to the buffalo herd at Elk Island, there are 545 elk, 144 moose, a number of mule deer and the smaller wild animals common to this area. The park is also becoming widely known as a bird sanctuary.

Scotsman's Opinion Of Play And Actor Was Real Compliment

When Charles Matthews was appearing in Edinburgh, his landlord, who seldom attended any public meeting save the "kirk," asked the great actor if he would oblige him with "a pass for the playhouse." Being favored with the necessary ticket, the old Scot donned his black suit and attended two of Matthews' greatest comedy performances. Sir Colindale in "Used Up," and Plummer in "Cool as a Cucumber," both downright "sidesplitters." Meeting the landlord after the performance, Matthews cordially greeted that gentleman, and inquired how he had enjoyed the entertainment. "Aweel," replied the old Scot, "it pleased me vera much, ye ken, and I consider you played uno gude but, heigh, mon, I'd a hard matter to keep frae laughing."

Railroad Builder Had Track Bolt Cut To Proper Size

One day E. H. Harrison, the railroad builder, was walking along on one of his tracks with an assistant. He noticed a track bolt and asked his companion why so much of the bolt should protrude beyond the nut. He received the reply, "It is the size generally used."

"Why should we use a bolt of such a length that a part of it is useless?" he asked.

"Well, when you come right down to it, there is no reason."

The two strolled along and Harrison asked how many track bolts there were to a mile of track, and was told.

Thereupon he remarked, "Well, in the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific we have about eighteen thousand miles of track and there must be some fifty million track bolts in our system. If you can cut an ounce from every bolt, you will have fifty million ounces of iron, and that is something worthwhile. Change your bolt standard." — Christian Science Monitor.

FILL UP THE COOKIE JAR WITH BRAN GOODIES

Thrifty housewives needn't feel guilty when they fill up the cookie jar with these bran goodies. Made with All-Bran and prunes, they're rich in iron and other food essentials. Moreover, they're economical! And they do add that touch of sweet that finishes a meal in a way that satisfies. The recipes follow:

All-Bran Prune Bars
 1/2 cup milk
 1 cup All-Bran
 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 1/2 cup sugar
 2 eggs
 1 cup flour
 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1 cup chopped cooked prunes

Four milk over All-Bran and allow to soak for about 10 minutes. Blend butter and sugar together thoroughly, add egg and beat until mixture is light and fluffy. Stir in soaked All-Bran. Sift flour with baking powder and spices; mix with chopped prunes and add to first mixture. Spread in greased cake pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 35 minutes. Yield: 18 bars 1 1/4 x 2 1/4 (8 x 8 inch pan).

All-Bran Prune Nuggets
 2 eggs
 1/2 cup honey
 1/2 cup prune juice
 2 cups flour
 4 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
 1 cup All-Bran
 1/2 cup chopped cooked prunes
 1/2 cup chopped dates
 1/2 cup chopped nut meats
 1 cup melted shortening

Beat eggs; add sugar and prune juice. Sift flour with baking powder, salt and cloves; add to first mixture. Add All-Bran, fruit, nut meats and shortening. Mix and drop by heaping teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. Yield: Four dozen cookies (2 1/4 inches in diameter). 2465

The Individual Citizen's Army

A Weekly Column About This And That In The Canadian Army.

By Alan Maurice Irwin

Last night I heard a radio programme in which a Regimental Sergeant-Major was quizzed in front of a couple of thousand soldiers. It was well done, so well in fact that the R.S.M. had to ask the announcer to repeat something he had said. That was the announcer's most. "What would you say," he questioned, "if one of those boys out there held up a parade to ask you to repeat the command you had just given?"

The Sergeant-Major was non-plussed. He didn't know what he would say. Then he recovered, "I don't think I'd better tell you on a national network," he quipped.

I have heard a sergeant-major being rightly indignant. And I have heard the troops being righteously or almost righteously-indignant at the sergeant-major. It is an interesting pastime.

But it doesn't do much good! Righteous indignation can do a lot of good. In fact it must do a lot of good if we are going to get anywhere in this job of work.

At the moment I am bubbling over with it and the subject is golf clubs. I don't mean the kind of club that would come in very handy for a member of one of our commands, I mean the kind that will come in far too handy as emergency landing grounds for enemy aircraft.

There is altogether too much of the "It can't happen here" mentality amongst some of the solid—I almost said stolid—citizens who support our best and most expensive golf and country clubs.

Why should a man who is too old to fight, or a woman for that matter, burn up God's good air chasing a golf ball across fairways which are an open invitation to an enemy aircraft. Why should yards and yards of elastic be wound around a core to form a golf ball when rubber is so urgently needed in war production.

I know the standard answer. They get exercise in a way that they otherwise would not. That answer doesn't wash at a time like this. There is just as much exercise to be got from joining the A.R.P. or the Reserve Army and it will not use vital necessities for war work.

Now perhaps this is going too far. It may be too general an indictment. On the other hand you may agree with me and you too may be just a little too righteously indignant on this particular point. There is probably a happy medium.

I met righteous indignation only two days ago on the part of a woman who feels that the recent order by the Wartime Prices and Control Board limiting deliveries is too stringent upon one class of shopkeeper. She said, and she said it very emphatically, that the order benefited only the big stores and is a hardship on little corner general stores which serve a small section of a community. These, she pointed out, usually employ a boy on bicycle or afoot and consequently no saving of gasoline is involved. According to her these little stores may go out of business. The boys who were able to make a small contribution to their family's living cost will find that occupation gone.

At first blush this sounds reasonable but let's take a second look. These little stores for years have pampered us. If we wanted a bottle of pop, a package of cigarettes, a magazine, half a pound of cheese or some other inconsequential item, we phoned and it was sent to us. The profit on that item could not be large enough to justify delivery but we demanded that service and got it. Now we can pay back. None of us wants to see that type of store forced to the wall. We are or should be far too grateful for the service it has given to encourage our laziness.

So what do we do? We do one of two things or both of them. We either, and this is the best solution, run down to the store to get what it is we suddenly need or we use our heads and think of enough other items to make the purchase total $1.00, in which event we can telephone and the order will be delivered.

It's very simple isn't it? So is practically everything we members of The Individual Citizen's Army should do, without having to be asked or told, to help those who are fighting this war the hard way get on with it.

Nazis have purged book stores in Poland of all books dealing with national life—no book having the word Poland or Polish in it may be sold or circulated. 2465

Ceiling On Incomes

Few Canadians Would Be Affected If Plan Was Adopted

If Canada were to adopt a ceiling of $25,000 on personal income after taxation, as has been the rule in the United Kingdom for some time and as President Roosevelt would have it in the United States, less than 400 Canadians would be affected. Canadian income and defence taxes reduce an income of about $6,000 to $25,000. In the fiscal year 1940-41, according to official figures, 473 Canadians had incomes of $50,000 or more. Fewer than 400 of these would be above the $60,000 mark.—Edmonton Journal.

GREATER CO-ORDINATION OF AIR TRAINING PROGRAMS REACHED AT CONFERENCE HELD IN OTTAWA

Ottawa.—Decisions looking to a greater co-ordination of air training programs and techniques among 14 of the United Nations were reached at the Ottawa air training conference which ended after four days of secret conversations and formal discussions.

Most positive were the arrangements made for exchanges of information among the three countries engaged in the largest air training programs in progress in North America—Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom. A combined committee on air training in North America is to be set up with representatives of each of these countries on it.

A hint of close co-operation in the allocation of the human element in air power was given by the conference chairman, Air Minister Power, when he said a survey of manpower led to the conclusion there need be no bottlenecks due to a lack of sufficient trained men for the available aircraft.

He said the men available now match the aircraft, and it is hoped this condition will prevail in the future.

Rt. Hon. Harold Balfour, parliamentary undersecretary for air in the British government, and Maj.-Gen. B. K. Yount of the United States Army, air force, joined with Maj. Power in making public the limited amount of information it was considered proper to reveal on the work of the conference. Both stressed the value the conference had been to their delegations and predicted useful results.

Setting up of the proposed combined committee on air training in North America will probably be one of the first visible results of the conference. While the headquarters of the committee will be in Washington it may meet elsewhere in Canada or the United States as occasion warrants.

ITALY WANTS LAND

Press Demands That France Make Immediate Transfer Of Territory
Bern.—The Italian press has demanded territory from France and insisted that the transfer be made immediately, regardless of the length and outcome of the war. The insistence of the Fascist press was the strongest since Italy, Germany and France signed the armistice nearly two years ago.

The press campaign thrice wide open the question of Laval's efforts to bring France into full co-operation with the Axis. It revealed Italy's impatience to have her share in the war gains as a reward for joining Germany in the conflict and it indicated that Germany had not given in to Italian claims.

RECONSTRUCTION IN BRITAIN IS SECOND ONLY TO THE TASK OF FIRST WINNING THE WAR

London.—The British are thinking hard about the future these days and they're acting, too. They're trying to win the war as fast as possible so they can get to the task of building a better life. The post-war system, most experts believe, will be somewhere between pure individualism and pure socialism.

The war has done more than level homes and take lives. Its hardships have given the man in the street a deep-rooted will to achieve final victory. He has gritted his teeth and plunged into the job with a wholehearted desire to give up luxuries, work hard and risk his neck to attain the way life he prefers. The whole of that the British have done, and is doing, personifies "change."

An increase in politeness is noticeable; the people are more friendly.

Those are just some of the changes bombs have wrought. There are many others, non-physical changes which have made the average man revise his ideas on politics and economics.

British history exemplifies an ingrained respect for position. But to day the line of distinction has been pushed back until the words of the Archbishop of Canterbury that "service comes first and opportunity to make profits comes afterwards" can be taken as indicative of how England is thinking.

SENDING PARCELS

Prisoners At Hong Kong Will Get Them Through The Red Cross

Toronto.—Details of arrangements made by the Canadian Red Cross Society to send food and parcels to Canadian prisoners at Hong Kong were announced here.

The Canadian government will send to each soldier a complete outfit, medical supplies and mosquito netting. Next-of-kin parcels may be forwarded to supplement government and Red Cross aid.

Officers of the International Red Cross have obtained permits from the Japanese government and delegates will shortly visit the prison camp at Hong Kong, headquarters said.

Mrs. H. Plumtree, acting director of the Red Cross inquiry bureau at Ottawa, said next-of-kin parcels must not contain food or chocolate, but chewing gum may be sent.

The government outfit being sent does not include a sweater and officials suggest a sleeveless sweater and wool socks would be desirable.

Tobacco or cigarettes may not be included in the parcels. Toilet supplies may be sent and may include toothbrush and powder, safety razor and blades, hard nail brush, strong soap and shaving soap, comb and insect powder.

Next-of-kin parcels should be sent to Ottawa immediately addressed this way: Name of soldier, name of regiment, regimental number, "taken prisoner of war at Hong Kong," care of force "C," General Post Office, Ottawa.

CAUSE FOR WAR.

If Russia Supplies China With Arms Says Japanese Official

Rome.—Should Russia supply China with arms, this would be a cause for war, Toshio Shiratori, former Japanese ambassador to Italy, said in an interview.

(Russia has been reported supplying China with arms for almost five years over a long road extending into Central China from the Siberian province of Turkestan. Whether the supplies still are flowing now that Russia is heavily engaged is uncertain.)

FIRE LOSS HIGH

Total Property Loss In Canada For 1941 Was $23,042,907

Seignior Club, Que.—W. L. Clairmont, Dominion fire commissioner, said that fire loss for 1941 showed an increase of $5,307,643 over the previous season, and total property loss for the year in Canada amounted to $28,042,907. He was speaking at the annual meeting of the Dominion Fire Prevention Association.

GOES TO HOLLAND

German Gestapo Chief To Cope With Anti-Nazi Resistance

London.—Heinrich Himmler, chief of the German Gestapo, has arrived in Holland to cope with rising anti-Nazi resistance, the news agency Aneta said.

Himmler reached the Netherlands after a visit to his Gestapo lieutenant, Reinhard Heydrich, who now is in charge of the police in occupied France. Field Marshal Gerd von Rundstedt, commander of the German occupation troops in northern France, also said to have visited Holland recently.

The visit of Himmler followed a new outburst of anti-German activity which resulted in the execution of 96 alleged leaders of a secret anti-Nazi society and the arrest of more than 2,000 Netherlands army officers and the seizure of 400 prominent Netherlands as hostages.

ON PER CENT. BASIS

Wheat Deliveries Depend On Grower's 1941 Authorized Acreage

Ottawa.—Western wheat deliveries during the crop year 1942-43 will be made on the basis of the grower's 1941 authorized acreage, George McIvor, chairman of the Canadian wheat board, told the House of Commons' committee on agriculture.

The 1941 authorized acreage was based on 65 per cent. of the grower's 1940 wheat crop.

Under the federal program for 1942-43 wheat deliveries are restricted to 280,000,000 bushels from the west.

"Until the acreage for 1942 is known and until the general pattern of the 1942 crop is established, it will be impossible to state the basis upon which wheat deliveries will be made from authorized acreages," Mr. McIvor said.

The board would have to take into consideration the acreage, production and probable marketing of feed grains and flaxseed, under the 1942-43 program before per-bushel wheat delivery quotas were decided.

For the 280,000,000 bushels to be delivered, the wheat board will pay 90 cents a bushel for No. 1 northern, basis in store at Fort William.

DESERTED TOWNS

Being Converted Into Model Settlements For Japs In B.C.

Vancouver.—British Columbia "ghost towns" of the interior Shocan district are rapidly being converted into model settlements where Japanese families evacuated from the coastal defence zone will make their homes, and the movement of Japanese families to the latest one, Shocan.

Latest figures show that Greenwood already has a population of 812 Japanese Kasio 429, and Shocan 22. The fourth "ghost town"—Sandown—has only two Japanese so far, but a work crew of 24 carpenters, plumbers and laborers left to make preparations for the Japanese to follow.

Training Fighting Force

"The whole idea behind the training of Canada's army is to turn out a fighting force that will be prepared to fight—no, not fight to lick—lick anyone, anytime, anywhere. And believe me," added Lieut.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, Canada's new chief of the general staff, "We've got an army that can do it." Gen. Stuart was making his first tour of M.D. 2 military camps, including Long Branch Newmarket and Camp Borden, since his appointment. Gen. Stuart is shown with Corp. W. S. Thompson.

CONCERN IS EXPRESSED OVER ELEVATOR AGENTS AND WHEAT LOSSES FROM RAILWAY CARS

Ottawa.—Members of the House of Commons agriculture committee expressed concern over western elevator agents who were allegedly dismissed when their elevators were filled with grain, and over wheat losses from railway cars being shipped to the head of the lakes.

D. G. McKenzie, chairman of the board of grain commissioners, a witness before the committee, said he did not feel the situation regarding elevator agents was serious. A shortage of experienced men was anticipated due to enlistments. He said grain companies had officials check on losses of grain in shipments and taken steps to secure settlement with the railways.

Gordon Ross (Lib., Moose Jaw) said storage rates paid elevator companies were sufficient to cover all their costs of operation.

"I have noticed throughout the country that when the elevator companies get their elevators filled with grain and they were drawing money for storage, they reduced salaries or dismissed some men, and have one agent look after three or four elevators," he said.

"I do not think that is fair." He said the board should examine the possibility of having automatic weighers placed in elevator spouts to weigh the grain being loaded into railway cars. Many old railway cars were being taken out of service and grain would be lost from them.

"The agent is put in the position where he is supposed not to be short in weighing the farmer's wheat, and the one who loses is the producer," Mr. Ross said.

The automatic weigher device would permit an exact check of grain loaded in a car and the elevator agent could secure a bill of lading for that amount.

E. E. Perley (Con., Qu'Appelle) supported Mr. Ross' statement.

"The laying off men when the elevators are full is wrong," he said.

The losses of grain in shipment mean that the elevator agent was forced to take steps to protect himself. His own experience had been that in one season of shipments to a lakehead terminal elevator the shortages reported from the terminal amount to 700 bushels.

P. E. Wright (C.C.F., Melfort) said he agreed with the other two members.

Mr. McKenzie said he had no knowledge of general dismissals of

FOOD SHORTAGE

Acute Conditions In Germany And The Occupied Countries

London.—Germany's 1942 harvest will not be better than 75 per cent. of average even with ideal weather conditions for the next two months, and if there is a drought—as Marshal Goering implied in a speech—"food conditions will be extremely tight," the ministry of economic warfare predicted.

The ministry said that the German crop shortage would be due to lack of experienced farm workers, shortage of fertilizers and inferior seeds.

"Germany had had crop years in both 1940 and 1941," an official said, "and the nation had to draw on the huge stocks laid aside in 1939 and prior years."

"There is acute shortage also in the occupied countries, particularly in the Balkans, and the Reich is unable to replenish its warehouses."

MEXICANS ANGRY

Sinking Of Tanker By Nazis Has Aroused Intense Feeling

Mexico City.—The war drums are beating in Mexico. Organized labor formally has petitioned President Camacho for a declaration of war on the Axis, and offered the Mexican army at least 20,000 "fresh fighting men."

At the same time the permanent commission of congress bitterly denounced Nazi-Fascist "piracy" and urged the Mexican people to organize "meetings of patriotism."

The congress commission met for the first time since the torpedoing of a Mexican tanker by an Axis submarine.

Speakers drew wave after wave of applause as they denounced the Axis, pledged aid to the United Nations and demanded full retribution for the sinking. And they said the nation would follow the leadership of their president "into the trenches if necessary."

CANADIAN AIR SQUADRON HAS LANDED SAFELY IN STRATEGIC LOCATION IN THE FAR EAST

London.—Canada's air arm, growing stronger day by day, as airmen of the Dominion stream in increasing numbers "from the airframe of Democracy," has been extended to a strategic corner of the Far East.

A brief announcement by R.C.A.F. overseas headquarters told of the safe arrival in the Oriental war theatre of the first Canadian squadron to serve elsewhere in this war than Canada or the United Kingdom.

A flying boat squadron commanded by Wing-Commander Johnny Plant of Ottawa which has done valuable, though somewhat monotonous, work as a coastal command in this part of the war-torn world, left from a secret base in Northern Ireland and has completed its flight of thousands of miles without mishap.

The movement required several weeks of preparation. Hundreds of ground crewmen who set out on the hazardous journey by ship were followed recently by the aircraft which were flown out singly or in pairs.

Word of the movement was withheld from the public for security reasons, until the last flying boat reached its destination.

It is expected that other squadrons will be operating on other fronts in the near future.

It is understood that a new flying boat squadron will be formed in Britain to replace the one despatched to the Far East.

The squadron had put in many hours of monotonous patrol and convoy escort work before its departure, but two of its members, Sqdn. Ldr. J. Birchall of Saint John, N.B., and Warant Officer C. Onyett of Huntsville, Ont., already had distinguished themselves in helping stem the Japanese thrust at the island of Ceylon in April. Their feat was officially described as "one of the greatest achievements of Canadian fliers of the present war."

They were crew members of the flying boat which first sighted the Japanese fleet approaching Ceylon. Nothing was heard of them after they flashed the alarm by radio to their base and they were listed as "missing after flying battle."

"You be careful about the zoo," advised Pat. "You'll see some animals if you follow the words 'To the Lions' or 'To the Elephants'; but take no notice of the one 'To the Exit' for begorra, Mike, it's a fraud and I found myself outside when I went in!"

LOST THEIR SUGAR

Tipped off that large quantities of sugar had been delivered during the rationing period of Japanese residents of Hillcrest, Vancouver Island, the British Columbia Provincial Police visited the homes of Mrs. Moorita Kazuo and Tokosuki Yoshiki. They found two unopened 100 pound sacks of sugar in the one place and one unopened 100 pound sack in the other—all above the "honor rationing" allowance.

After conferring with the Regional Representative of the War-time Prices and Trade Board, the police handed all three sacks to the custodian of alien enemy property, for confiscation. Both offenders are to be moved out of the coast district, together with the Japanese merchant who supplied them.
